Information Sheet (The 4 W's)

What

Rather-Be-Shopping.com is a free online coupon service that aggregates and organizes coupons and deals to over 850 national retailers. Online partnerships include popular names like Dell, Lands' End, Eddie Bauer, Best Buy, Target, Walmart, Kohl's, American Eagle, and Amazon.

Rather-Be-Shopping.com saves consumers money and allows retailers a cost effective way to acquire sales and new customers. Coupons are updated several times daily with new offers.

Income for Rather-Be-Shopping.com is generated through a commission structure in which listed retailers pay anywhere from 2% to 20% of total sales made through outgoing links on the website.

Rather-Be-Shopping.com also features an interactive blog (<https://www.rather-be-shopping.com/blog/>) that discusses not only how to save with coupons, but also shopping hacks, frugal living tips, and personal finance advice for families on a tight budget.

As a father of 3 young children, the website founder, and his wife (a stay at home mom), offer practical advice for making your paycheck go as far as possible every month.

Who

Rather-Be-Shopping.com was founded by Kyle James in December 2000. The idea for the money saving website came after an expensive Internet shopping experience in which he discovered the existence of online coupons.

James, 46, earned his Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from Saint Mary's College of California in 1996, and subsequently received his MBA from National University, with a specialization in e-Commerce.

Why

The goal of the Rather-Be-Shopping.com is to help online shoppers save money and in the process generate revenue. James tries to distinguish himself from his competition by providing excellent customer service and going beyond the call of duty. He prides himself in answering every email he receives from people seeking help using coupons or looking for a particular coupon.

Where

Kyle James lives in Redding, California, and operates the website from his home office.
